Fort William, the 15th April 1862.

Financial.

SIR,

I AM directed to forward, for the information of the and for communication generally to the Officers subordinate to them, the accompanying copy of an Extract from the Government of India, in the Financial Department, No. 2231, dated the 15th ultimo, containing a Resolution by His Excellency the Governor General in Council on the subject of Uncovenanted Officers overstaying their leave in Europe.

I have the honor to be,

SIR,

Your most obedient Servant,

J. P. H. WARD,

Offg. Under-Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

[Exd: J. H. Mendies.]

Extract from the Proceedings of the Government of India, in the Financial Department,
No. 2231, dated the 15th March 1862.

READ the following papers regarding several points connected with the Absentee Rules of the Uncovenanted Service:—

Office Memorandum from the Public Works Department, No. 1821, dated the 28th May 1861.

Endorsement to Officiating Civil Pay-Master, Fort William, No. 6747, dated the 6th June 1861.

Report from ditto, dated 13th June 1861.

Resolution passed in this Department on the 27th June 1861, No. 8155:

Office Memorandum from Public Works Department, No. 80, dated the 7th January 1862, with enclosures.

Endorsement to Civil Pay-Master, Fort William, No. 821, dated the 7th February 1862.

Memorandum from ditto, dated 15th February 1862.

RESOLUTION.—Mr. A. G. Crommelin, an Uncovenanted Officer of the Public Works Department, holding the appointment of Executive Engineer on the Baree Doab Canal, obtained leave to Europe, on Medical Certificate, under an order of this Government dated the 12th December 1858, and reported his departure from India on the 7th March 1859. While in England, he was allowed extensions of leave by instalments for another year, which carried his leave up to the 7th March 1861. But having, with the permission of the Secretary of State, left England to return to India via Bombay by a Steamer on the 12th February 1861, he did not arrive in Bombay till the 15th March following, i. e., eight days after the expiration of his leave. By an order of the Government of the Punjab, dated the 25th April 1861, which was subsequently confirmed by this Government, he was appointed to officiate as Controller and Examiner of Public Works Accounts in the Punjab, and he reported his arrival at Lahore on the 27th April 1861.

The Public Works Department, in reporting these circumstances in May last, enquired whether special leave on one-third allowances could be granted to Mr. Crommelin for the period occupied in travelling from Bombay to Lahore, and was informed in reply that, as Mr. Crommelin had exceeded the leave granted to him under Section V. of the Absentee Rules of the Uncovenanted Service, he was “not entitled to any special leave that would carry allowances with it.”

Mr. Crommelin now enquires whether the period between his landing at Bombay and arriving at Lahore (viz., from the 15th March to the 27th April 1861) may be allowed to count for pension, and solicits orders as to whether any retrenchment should be made in the case of Mr. Pardon, another Uncovenanted Officer of the Public Works Department in the Punjab, who, with the sanction of the Secretary of State, exceeded his sick leave for two years by two months, and was allowed special leave to rejoin his appointment for two months more, during which he received half salary.

The Public Works Department, in referring Mr. Crommelin's enquiry for consideration and orders, raises the following general questions connected with the grant of leave of absence to Uncovenanted Servants:—

1. To what allowances is an absentee entitled during the third year of sick leave?

2. What is the correct construction of the passage in the Resolution passed in this Department, on the 14th October 1857, declaring that an absentee on special leave is entitled to the rates of allowances granted under Clause 3 of Section V. of the Absentee Rules (cited in the margin)?

"During one year of the entire period of absence under this Rule, the absentee will be subjected to a deduction of one-half, and during the remainder, to a deduction of two-thirds of his allowances, provided, however, that he shall in no case draw a larger sum than Rupees 6,000 (£600) per annum."

passed in this Department, on the 14th October 1857, declaring that an absentee on special leave is entitled to the rates of allowances granted under Clause 3

3. Is the permission given to an Uncovenanted Officer by the Secretary of State to return to his duty a mere formality, or does it entitle him to retain his appointment if he exceeds his leave; and, in the latter case, does the excess and the time occupied in joining count towards pension?

The Civil Pay-Master, Fort William, whose opinion on the subject was called for, replies, in regard to the case of Mr. Crommelin, that, "when an Uncovenanted Officer forfeits his appointment by overstaying his leave, he is not entitled to special leave, inasmuch as he has no appointment to join, consequently the period intervening between the date of Mr. Crommelin's return to Bombay, and that of his assuming charge of his office at the Punjab, cannot count as service qualifying for pension."

With reference to the first and second questions raised by the Public Works Department, the Civil Pay-Master reports that an absentee during the third year of sick leave is entitled to one-third of his salary, and during special leave to one-third or one-half, according as the period of his absence on sick leave shall or shall not have exceeded twelve months; and that it is, therefore, necessary to recover from Mr. Purdon the difference between half and one-third of his salary during the period of his special leave.

His Excellency the Governor General in Council concurs in the views of the Civil Pay-Master, and observes, with regard to the third point referred for consideration by the Public Works Department, that the question, whether an Uncovenanted Servant, who has the permission of the Secretary of State to return to his duty, is entitled to retain his appointment, depends on the circumstances under which that permission was given. If an Officer merely applies to be allowed to return to his duty on a particular Steamer, without explaining that his leave will expire before he can reach India, the permission of the Secretary of State (which would then be given as a matter of course) cannot be held to imply that it was intended he should retain his appointment contrary to the letter of the Rules; but if, on the other hand, the Officer explains to the Secretary of State that his leave will be exceeded, it may fairly be inferred that it was intended that his claim to his appointment should not be forfeited, and in this case he might be held to be entitled to special leave, and to count such special leave as service qualifying for pension. Every case, however, must be considered on its merits. No general ruling can be passed.

ORDERED, that a copy of the foregoing Resolution be forwarded to the Public Works Department for information and further orders, and that the original papers received from that Department, with Memorandum No. 80, dated the 7th January 1858, be returned, copies being kept in this Office for record.

Ordered, also, that copies of the foregoing Resolution be forwarded for information and guidance to the Departments, Governments and Officers noted below:—

From W. S. ATKINSON, Esq., Director of Public Instruction, to H. BELL, Esq., Officiating Junior Secretary to the Government of Bengal,—(No. 659, dated the 12th March 1862.)

SIR,

MR. OLDHAM, Superintendent of the Geological Survey of India, has lately submitted to the Lieutenant-Governor copies of Memoranda* formerly laid by him before the Supreme Government, proposing arrangements for the delivery in Calcutta of periodical courses of Lectures on Geology and Mining, and he has pointed out that, as it is now in contemplation to establish a great Central Museum in Calcutta, to comprise collection in all the branches of Natural Science, including Geology, the present is a very "favorable opportunity for carrying out a well-devised scheme of general instruction in such subjects."

* January 3rd 1862.

2. I cordially concur with Mr. Oldham in the general views expressed by him in these able papers. It is, in my opinion, most desirable that the great Central Museum should be made, as far as possible, a School for teaching the Natural and Physical Sciences, with such applications of them as are likely to be of especial benefit to India; and it can hardly be doubted that, if an efficient course of instruction in these subjects is provided, an audience will be found willing and eager to learn.

3. The learners will not, however, generally be the Students of our Schools and Colleges. Few of these will be able or willing to devote any portion of their time to a practical and scientific study of subjects not included, or of which the elements only are included, in the course laid down by the University for Degrees in the several faculties. They have enough to do in preparing for the prescribed Examinations, and it is only in very exceptional cases that they will diverge from the tract marked out for them.

4. It is for this reason that the Professorship of Geology in the Presidency College has been held for some years in abeyance, and I certainly do not think it necessary or desirable to revive it in connection with that Institution. Under these circumstances I venture to add my recommendation to Mr. Oldham's, that the instruction in Geology which that Professorship was intended to provide, and which unquestionably ought to be provided in Calcutta, should be given in connection with the Central Museum, and by Officers attached to the Geological Survey of India, as proposed in the Memoranda above referred to.

5. This arrangement will, if sanctioned, involve a transfer to the Geological Survey Department of the Rupees 700 per mensem at present assigned as an endowment for the Chair of Geology in the Presidency College. I am willing to make this transfer, but at the same time I must solicit His Honor to assign to the Presidency College an additional allowance of the same amount to provide a salary for a Professor of the Physical Sciences, that is to say, of a Professor who will teach those branches of the Physical Sciences which are required by the University Regulations for the Bachelor of Arts Degree, viz., Chemistry, Animal Physiology, and Physical Geography.

6. These subjects are at present taught by Dr. Halleur, the Professor of Natural Philosophy, to whose Chair they do not properly belong. They are not handled in a way to do credit to the Professor, or justice to the Students who attend his Lectures. I therefore desire to relieve him of this duty as soon as may be. Other changes will then become necessary, and as more lecturing power is now required in consequence of the necessity of providing courses of Lectures for Honor Students, I propose that in future the Professor who holds the Chair of Natural Philosophy should be employed entirely on the proper work of his Chair, and that Lectures on the Physical Sciences should be delivered by a Professor specially appointed for that particular duty. With this view I included in the Estimates for 1862-63 the Rupees 700 per mensem sanctioned for the Chair of Geology, and had intended, with his Honor's permission, to appropriate the money to the endowment of a Professorship of the Physical Sciences. It will perhaps, however, be the more proper course to ask the Government to provide by a new grant for these branches of study, instead of securing what is required by alienating the Grant for Geology from the purpose which it was designed, although circumstances have made it desirable that instruction in that Science should now be given elsewhere than in the Presidency College, and under arrangements somewhat different from those that were at first contemplated.

7. I accordingly beg to solicit that the Lieutenant-Governor will be pleased to issue such instructions as may be necessary to secure to the Presidency College an assignment of Rupees 700 per mensem for the salary of a Professor of the Physical Sciences, and at the same time that he will direct that the Rupees 700 per mensem, now assigned to the College for a Geological Professor, shall be made over to the Geological Survey Department, to be employed in providing a systematic course of Lectures on Geology and Mining in the way suggested by Mr. Oldham.

8. I will only add that, should these Lectures be found successful, as there is every reason to anticipate they will, I shall hope to see arrangements matured hereafter for providing similar courses of Lectures in other branches of Science.

P. S.—A copy of Mr. Oldham's communication is appended for facility of reference.

Memorandum on the establishment of a School of Geology in Calcutta, and the most economical means of accomplishing this, submitted to His Excellency the Governor General, 1859.

I suppose it may be assumed, as admitted, that it is desirable that Geology should be taught and be known. It will thus be unnecessary to point out the advantages of such knowledge, the intimate connection between it and the successful pursuit of all mining and metallurgical enterprise, and the great want of it in India especially. Further, that such has been the opinion of those in authority, is abundantly evidenced by the appointment and re-appointment of a Professor of Geology in connection with the Presidency College in Calcutta, by the still earlier appointment of a Professor of Geology at the Thomason College, Roorkee, and by the general tenor of the arrangements for the spread of education. We may also point to the fact of such Professorships existing in connection with every University in England, of Lectureships on this and other applied Sciences being established at almost every College, and of elementary instruction in these subjects being now given in almost every large School throughout Great Britain.

I think, I may therefore assume, as I said, that Geology and its applications are to be taught. How can this be most effectively done? is the next question that naturally occurs.

The system first adopted in Calcutta, on the remodelling of the Presidency College, was the appointment of a Professor of Natural History and Geology. This was so obviously, so confessedly, an impracticable course; the Lecturer, if in reality taking up the subjects included within the range of his specified duties, would so evidently have been obliged to go through an Encyclopædic range of studies, that it is not to be wondered at that the design failed. And I believe I am correct in saying that no course of instruction, in either Natural History Proper, or Geology, has ever been given by the Professor. Some teaching of Physical Geography was undertaken. The delegation of the Professor then appointed to other duties inter-ferred with the continuance of even this amount of teaching. And during his absence the only course of Lectures or instructions in Geology and Mineralogy which has been given in Calcutta, to my knowledge, was given by one of the Assistants of the Geological Survey, Mr. Henry F. Blanford. More recently the Chair of Geology was in abeyance until re-established on a different footing, and the subject to be treated of limited to Geology, and Dr. Liebig was re-instated in the office.

That gentleman has now, as I am informed, resigned the service, or purposes doing so, and the Professorship being therefore vacant, I venture to submit a few remarks.

My object is to endeavour to point out how the end desired—sound instruction in Geology and its applications—can be attained at the smallest expenditure.

To do this, I must digress a little. No one, who is in the slightest degree acquainted with the matter, will hesitate to agree in the opinion, that it is impossible for any one to be a sound Geologist, who has not had, and who has not, frequent opportunities of examining for himself rocks in their natural position in the field. A closet Geologist (in the proper sense of the term, one who can apply his knowledge of Geology) is an impossibility. There may be a carefully acquired knowledge of all the terminology of the Science; of all the theoretical explanations of its facts; and of all the ordinary textures and structures of its materials. Accurate drawings and diagrams may teach the eye the external aspect of rocks and rocky masses, or the more minute divisional arrangements of minerals. But it is only by actual inspection that the true relations of these can be learnt; it is only by actual personal examination that the real structure of the earth's surface can be understood. I hold, therefore, and every Geologist must hold, that no man can teach Geology who has not been, and who is not, a working field Geologist.

This being granted, it seems a necessary consequence that the best men to become teachers are those who are, necessarily from their occupation, in the constant habit of practising their art. And therefore I hold also that the teachers of Geology in India should be sought among the ranks of the Geological Survey of India. These gentlemen must know more of Indian Geology than any one else can be expected to do; the application of their Science is to them an hourly or daily practice, and they are therefore more likely to prove effective instructors than any else, not so occupied, can do.

An objection may start itself here, that if these gentlemen are fully engaged on the Geological Survey, they could not, without giving up that duty, devote their time to instructing in Geology. To this there appears to me a conclusive answer. It is quite true that they are all fully occupied. But the conditions of climate and seasons in this country compel that occupation to be, for nearly half the year, house-occupation. This house-occupation, or office work must, in most cases, be at the head-quarters of the Survey, or in Calcutta, where alone books and collections for reference can be had; and while so, in Station, there is at the disposal of all Assistants, during the mornings and evenings, sufficient time to enable them to devote an hour or two daily to the preparation and delivery of Lectures, without any important interference with their other duties.

But it may be said that such instruction must be continued during the whole year I cannot think so. Such an extended knowledge of the subjects taught, as this would imply, is not required from any Students here. Their time is largely occupied by other pursuits and studies. Besides, I do not think that a more extended or detailed course would be required in this country than in Europe. The course of Geology at the Government School of Mines, London, unquestionably the best School of Geology in the world, is forty Lectures. The course in Dublin University, where I was myself Professor for five years, was some forty Lectures, and this duty was performed by me while I held, at the same time, the Directorship of the Geological Survey of Ireland. The number of Lectures given at Oxford and Cambridge seldom exceeds thirty in the year. Now, seeing that the experience of all teachers indicates that a full exposition of the principles of the Science can be fairly given in forty Lectures, I think we may fairly assume that the same number of Lectures would be sufficient in this country. Forty Lectures, supposing that four were given in each week, would occupy about two months and a half, or supposing that three were given in each week, or on alternate days, about three months. And the gentlemen of the Geological Survey are always unavoidably absent from the field for a longer time than that.

I think, therefore, it will be seen that, without any essential interference with his duties, it would be quite practicable for an Assistant on the Geological Survey to deliver a full course of Lectures in Calcutta during the Summer Session.

The same would equally be the case in Madras.

I need not insist here on the great advantages in the way of illustrations, of specimens of Books, &c., which any one attached to the Geological Survey would have over others.

I have hitherto spoken only of Geology Proper. I would however add, that there must always be attached to the Survey gentlemen fully competent to instruct in other branches connected with our Geological pursuits. Mineralogy and Mining, the substances extracted from the earth, and the methods of extracting them, could equally well be taught in a similar manner. Metallurgy, the modes of determining the value of ores, of reducing and treating those ores, is another branch which in itself would afford more than ample occupation of a course of equal length with that on Geology: while Palæontology, or the application of Natural History to the investigation of Fossil remains, would occupy another most interesting and most important course.

I most eagerly desire to see a Chair of Technology established in this country. I believe that from sound instruction in such branches of applied Science immense improvements might be looked for. The preparation of indigo, of sugar, of rum, of candles, soap, jute, flax, &c., &c., all these involve the application of Chemical principles, which ought to be known before they can be properly applied, or at least before we can look for any improvement in their application. But for such a Chair the staff of the Geological Survey could not offer a properly qualified person, although its collections would offer much of interest to such an enquirer. He must be a well-practiced and practical Chemist.

But for all the other subjects to which I have alluded, I think I am not saying too much, when I state that there must always be attached to the Geological Survey of India, so long as that Survey is maintained in any efficiency, gentlemen qualified to give instruction in these: and from their special training and practice, in all probability better qualified than others.

In brief, I conceive that the Geological Survey has but half performed its duty, if it do not become a School of Geology, a means of training for Geologists in this country, as well as a means of investigating the structure of that country. I believe that in this as in many other things it ought to follow the example of the Geological Survey of Great Britain, and become the centre of a School of applied Science, which might in India take the same position, as has in England, that most successful School of Practical Science, the Government School of Mines attached to the Museum of Practical Geology, London.

But granting all this, it may be asked how this can be done. To me it appears most easy of accomplishment. The only thing really required, not already existing, is a place to lecture in, accessible to Students of all classes and institutions, and the fixing of such Regulations as might be necessary as to fees, terms of attendance, &c. The hours and days of lecturing could, I presume, be easily fixed after consultation with the Heads of those Institutions whose pupils were likely to attend. If these preliminaries were arranged, I would propose, that out of the Assistants on the Geological Survey, one be nominated to lecture on Geology, another on Palæontology, and a third on Mineralogy and Mining, or one or other of these courses as determined on.

That these courses of Lectures should be delivered at convenient time and place, during the Summer Session, or during the five months between May and October.

That the nomination of the Lecturers rest with the Government, on recommendation by the Superintendent of the Geological Survey.

There remains still to be considered the question of cost. And on this head also I think the plan I would venture to submit recommends itself to consideration.

The sum now authorized for the Chair of Geology is a full Professor's pay, namely, 600 Rupees per month, and 100 Rupees per month house allowance—or, in all, 700 Rupees per month: I must say I think as little as any efficient Professor could be procured for, who should give up his whole time to the duties of the Chair. But under the plan I suggest, those gentlemen who would teach these subjects are already engaged in similar pursuits, and paid by Government for those services. The preparation and delivery of Lectures would, at the same time, involve a considerable amount of additional trouble, and occupy additional time. And for this time and trouble I think the Assistants on the Geological Survey would have a perfectly just claim to additional remuneration. Their mornings and evenings, now devoted to their own culture, or to writing, would then necessarily be devoted, in a great degree, to the preparation of their Lectures. And after a full consideration of the subject, I think that 200 Rupees per month would be as small a remuneration as could, in any justice, be offered for the services demanded. In fact it is only twice the amount now given merely as house rent.

At this rate of 200 Rupees per month, and supposing that, as I suggest, three Professors or Lecturers be appointed, the total cost annually of these three full courses would be less by the large sum of 1,200 Rupees than the pay of the Professor as now established. There would, doubtless, be some expenditure for illustrations, diagrams, &c., and I would suggest that, in the first instance, this should be met out of this sum thus saved, and subsequently that any such incidental expenses should be defrayed out of the fees received.

I think the principle of making the Lecturer in some fixed proportion to benefit by the number of his class, and thus exciting his zeal and desire to render his Lectures useful and attractive, is so good that I would venture to suggest, for consideration, whether these Lecturers might not be allowed to receive, in addition to the small remuneration I have spoken of, a moiety of those fees, for all Students beyond a certain number; or a smaller proportion, say one-third, for all Students.

I would also suggest the feasibility of applying some portion of that sum of 1,200 Rupees per annum to the founding of one or more exhibitions in each of the courses, to be held by the best Student of the year in that branch. If 20 Rupees per month were appropriated to this, in each course, or 60 Rupees in all—the total annual expenditure would be 720 Rupees, leaving still a balance in favor of the plan I propose of 480 Rupees.

The advantages of such a system as I here venture to suggest appear to me very considerable:—

1. The teachers being derived from a body, which, if maintained at all, must always be capable of affording from its numbers gentlemen competent for the duties, there would be no interruption to the continuity of the instruction. If illness, absence, or death should remove one, there would always be another to take his place. I look upon this as no small advantage, specially in this country. As a case in point, I may state that although a Professor of Geology was appointed in the beginning of 1856, not a single Lecture on Geology has been given, as far as I know, since that up to the present time, excepting the course given by Mr. Bianora, one of the staff of the Survey, during Dr. Liebig's absence on other duties.

2. These courses would be independent of any special Institution, either Government or otherwise, engaged in general education, and would, therefore, be equally open to all Students on perfect equality of terms. And in this way all the unpleasantness which now exists with regard to such questions would be avoided.

3. Not being specially directed to the preparation of Students for any degree or other examination, the teachers would be free to devote themselves to giving a full instruction in each of their subjects. From this all Students could readily obtain such elementary knowledge as is now required by the Calcutta University for the Degree of A. B., while others, such as Engineering Students, who might desire a more extended acquaintance with such subjects, would also be enabled to follow up their studies.

4. They would have all the many advantages which a connection with the actual examination and description of the country, as to its geological structure and mineral contents, would afford.

I feel that I can speak more fully on these points, because, so far as I am myself concerned, the only consequence of the arrangement proposed would be additional trouble. My duties are at present too onerous to permit of my undertaking any one of such courses were they sanctioned. Although I am decidedly of opinion that the Superintendent of the Geological Survey, whether the person holding that office be myself or another, ought to be at the same time either the Professor of Geology, or at least the person responsible to Government that proper instruction be given in Geology. And it might be possible that he himself should deliver a short course annually of a more general or popular nature than the regular Student course. But I feel that my Assistants on the Geological Survey have a just and fair claim to be considered in the award of any little honors of position or emoluments, which there may be at the disposal of Government in connection with their pursuits. I can bear ample testimony to the zeal and intelligence with which they carry out those pursuits. I can vouch for the hardships they undergo, the exposure they suffer, the malarious influences to which they are exposed, and the dangerous nature of their occupation. The loss of one-third nearly of my whole staff within nine months is abundant proof of all this. And I confess I perfectly understood, and sympathized with their feelings, when they looked upon the appointment to the Chair of Geology of one who was unacquainted with the elementary principles of their Science, and who had never devoted a single season to the examination of any District, as a great blow and serious discouragement to them. I do think it but just that those who bear the brunt of the battle should reap at least a share of the rewards. And that the knowledge of Indian Geology which these gentlemen have with toil acquired at the risk of their lives should be remembered in selecting those who may be appointed to communicate to others that knowledge.

It may be well here briefly to recapitulate.

I would suggest then, first, that the Geological Survey Establishment be made the centre, or the nucleus of a School of applied Science, with special reference to Geology, Mining, &c.

That this be done by selecting from the staff of the Survey persons qualified to give Lectures on Geology, on Mineralogy and Mining, and on Palaeontology.

That the persons so selected be required to give each a course of Lectures in number about forty, on the subjects named, during the five months, between May and October, in each year, at such time and place, in Calcutta, as may be agreed upon.

That these gentlemen be nominated by Government on the recommendation of the Superintendent of the Geological Survey.

That that Officer be held responsible for the general efficiency of the instruction so given, and be required to see that the duties be punctually and carefully performed.

That each Professor be required also to examine, from time to time, during his course, the Students attending, to see that proper attention has been given to the Lectures: and also at the termination of the course.

That each Professor so nominated receive 200 Rupees per month, and a proportion of the fees of his class, as may be agreed upon.

That the Superintendent of the Geological Survey be desired to aid these Lectures, by specimens and other illustrations, so far as this may be practicable, without injury to the Museum under his charge.

That an annual Report, stating the number of Lectures given, number of pupils attending, average attendance, progress made, &c., be furnished to Government at the conclusion of each Session.

Copy of Memorandum re-submitted with the preceding to the Hon'ble the President in Council, January 1861.

MORE than twelve months since, when the Professorship of Natural History and Geology became vacant by the retirement, from the Indian Service, of Dr. G. Von Liebig, who then held it, I ventured to submit to His Excellency the Governor General a Memorandum on what appeared to me a feasible and effective plan for securing practical and useful instruction in Geology, and other allied subjects. This Memorandum was submitted unofficially, but His Lordship did me the honor of making it official, and forwarding it to His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal for consideration. I believe it was submitted by him to the then Acting Director of Public Instruction for report.

At that time I was given to understand that the appointment of a Professor was held in abeyance, pending a reference home. I therefore allowed the matter to rest. I have recently been led to believe that this Chair, or something equivalent to it, is to be maintained, and I now venture again respectfully to submit a copy of my former Memorandum to the Hon'ble the President in Council.

I would at the same time state that nothing has since occurred to lead me to alter my opinion. I still think that the plan I have submitted is in principle sound, in its working facile and practical, and in its results certain of success. Minor changes might, with advantage, probably be introduced: of these, one I would suggest, is the substitution of a course of Practical Chemistry, so far at least as the qualitative analyses of ordinary minerals, instead, probably, of Palæontology—a sufficient reference to this latter subject might be included in the course of Geology. But such details could readily be discussed afterwards if the general principle were sanctioned.

I am bound to say that, in proposing such arrangements, my chief object at the time was an interested one. Up to the present time it has been impossible to obtain in this country any aid on the Geological Survey, even of the most subordinate kind; and I felt, that although perhaps not immediately, still after a while this terrible drawback to our progress might be removed, if there were an efficient School of Geology in this country. There was also a strong desire to place some of my Assistants, whose abilities I knew, in positions of honor, and at the same time of usefulness.

But I confess that I had then, and have still, an anxious desire to see established in Calcutta a system of instruction in such subjects, of a totally different stamp from the ordinary class-teaching and common school-master system adopted in the Colleges of this country. I desired to see instruction of a higher stamp, fitted more for the educated classes, open to all, not confined to the pupils of any Institution, and which I hoped, and believed, would draw a portion of its audience and learners from other than mere boys. I think there are many young men, both in the Army and in the Civil Service, who would be glad to avail themselves of any instruction of this kind in matters to which their attention had, in all probability, not been previously directed, while their every hour had been devoted to preparation for examination in other subjects. And I thought it possible that such could be accomplished without additional charge on the public funds.

I have seen no reason to alter these views. I have had, during the past twelve months, no less than nineteen applications for aid in learning Geology or Mineralogy, a fact which shews, I think, that there is a desire to profit by any such instructions. I feel, too, that it is a disgrace to the Capital of India, that there should be here no School of Natural Science, no Professor of Geology, no Teacher of any such subjects. Roorkee College, a single Institution, isolated, and without any learners other than the pupils of its own Establishment, has from the first enjoyed a regular Professor of Geology—Calcutta has had none.

I would add as fully bearing out my views of the practicability of such a plan, that the Professor of Geology at Roorkee College acts as an Assistant on the Geological Survey under my direction during the cold weather: and that such arrangement was desired by himself, from a conviction that he must have opportunities for field work, if he were to keep up his knowledge of the subject, while the time devoted to such examination of the country in no way interfered with his course of instruction in the College. What is practicable at Roorkee, surely would be equally so in Calcutta.

GEOLOGICAL SURVEY OFFICE,
Calcutta, January 3rd, 1862.

I VENTURE again to submit the preceding Memoranda to the Hon'ble the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal.

The past year has only tended to strengthen my conviction that the system therein proposed is practicable, economical, and effective, while the continued and repeated request that are made to the Geological Survey for aid in acquiring a knowledge of Geology, Mineralogy, and Mining, prove, in my opinion, that there is a real want of such instruction. Further, the past year has practically shown the feasibility of the scheme, inasmuch as, under similar arrangements, a very successful course of instruction in Geology has been given in Madras (at the Engineering College) by Mr. Foote, an Assistant on the Geological Survey, without any serious interruption of his ordinary duties: and it is intended that this shall be annually repeated. Mr. Foote's Lectures were largely attended, and the receipts for admission tickets went far to cover the cost of the course.

As there is, at present, a very confident hope that a properly designed and suitable building will be constructed for a Geological and a general Natural History Museum, worthy of Calcutta, the present seems to me a favorable opportunity for carrying out a well-devised scheme of general instruction in such subjects.

No. 3128.

FROM S. C. BAYLEY, Esq.,

Offg. Junior Secretary to the Government of Bengal,

TO THE DIRECTOR OF PUBLIC INSTRUCTION.

Fort William, the 30th December 1862.

Education.

SIR,

WITH reference to the recent appointment of Mr. H. F. Blanford to be a Professor in the Presidency College, I am directed to advert to your letter No. 659, dated the 12th March last, and to state that it is the Lieutenant-Governor's desire that Mr. Blanford should be employed primarily in teaching the Physical Sciences as required by the University Regulations for the B. A. Degree, viz., Chemistry, Animal Physiology, and Physical Geography, and that he should also every year give a course of Lectures on Geology, including Palæontology, Mineralogy, and Mining.

2. The Professor's Lectures on Geology should be open to all Students, whether attached to the Presidency College or not, on equal terms. As Geology forms no part of the University course in Arts, except in so far as a knowledge of it is required in candidates for Honors in Natural History and Physical Science, it will, of course, be optional with the Students in the general branch of the College to attend the Lectures on that subject or not, as they please. To the Students in Civil Engineering, who seek the Degree of M. C. E., the Geological Lectures will afford the means of sound theoretical instruction such as they have not hitherto possessed.

3. In addressing the Government of India, the Lieutenant-Governor will express his general approval of Dr. Oldham's scheme of Geological instruction in connexion with the Survey and Museum; but as a Professor of the Physical Sciences is absolutely required in the Presidency College, and as, consequently, no saving can be made in the College Establishment to meet the expenses of the Lectures to be given by the Assistants in the Geological Survey, it may be presumed that practical effect will not be given to the scheme, at any rate so long as the Government has at its disposal so able a practical Geologist as Mr. Blanford to fill the chair in the Presidency College.

4. The Lieutenant-Governor, however, has received from Dr. Oldham an assurance that all the assistance he can render to the Professor will be readily afforded, and that the resources of the Museum, and the scientific records of the Survey, will be open to him and his Class precisely in the same degree as if the Lectures were given in more immediate connexion with the Survey.

5. In conclusion I am desired to request that the Lieutenant-Governor may be informed of the arrangements to be made in the Presidency College for the performance of the duties assigned to Mr. Blanford, and especially for the delivery of the Lectures on Geology.

I have the honor to be,

SIR,

Your most obedient Servant,

here is Archer's certificate

he says he will readily give me a 15 month's it is impossible for me to ask it - however during this month I shall try to make it possible.

With respect to Bentons I have seen both Fryer & Wilson.

I have arranged with the latter that he shall be my Commission - & arrangement being made with me & Bentons is I shall pay W. $300 & Bent. $250 - keeping the balance - Perhaps you had better also pay off Bentons Wilson, both have been that his apparent neglect throughout is a surprise he has printed manuscript with me

As I perceive, I have room (think I for Wilson's report) that Bulmer has done little or nothing in the jurisprudence class.

Although I have no conception of the practical difficulty of filling the positions of 'jurisprudence' & 'Law of India' - ^{The 2 by} especially previous

If Wilson's health should fail, I really know not

Extract from the Proceedings of the Right Hon'ble the Governor General of India in Council, in the Home Department, No. 3866, under date the 31st July 1862.

READ a Telegram from the Acting Chief Secretary to the Government of Bombay, dated 11th June last, enquiring whether each receipt given on the Pay Abstract of a Government Establishment when the sum for which the receipt is given exceeds Rupees 20 should bear a 1 anna Stamp.

Read a letter from the Advocate General, dated 3rd July 1862, stating that such receipts require a 1 anna Stamp.

RESOLUTION.—The Governor General in Council is of opinion that the general receipt given by the Head of an Office on the back of a Pay Abstract is not liable to a Stamp duty, the receipt being executed in this instance by an Officer of Government in his official capacity and acting on behalf of Government, but that, when the amount of the Pay Abstract comes to be distributed, the receipts of the payees for salaries exceeding Rupees 20 a month must have a Stamp of 1 anna affixed to each, like other receipts given for the payment of money. The taking of such receipts on the back of a general Pay Abstract does not, in the opinion of His Excellency in Council, form any ground of exemption.

2. The question may arise whether, the Law being as above stated, such receipts should be especially exempted from Stamp duty. The Governor General in Council sees no reason why they should. The Tax is one which has been purposely put at such a low uniform rate, that it will hardly be felt as a burden by any one; and it therefore appears to His Excellency in Council to be very undesirable to admit of any exemptions from the tax other than those provided for by the Law.

ORDERED, that a copy of this Resolution, and of the Advocate-General's Opinion referred to, be forwarded to the Government of Bombay for information and guidance, in continuation of the Telegram issued yesterday.

From T. H. COWIE, Esq., Advocate General, to A. M. MONTEITH, Esq., Under-Secretary to the Government of India,—(dated the 3rd July 1862.)

IN reply to your letter of the 19th ultimo, I have the honor to state that, in my opinion, receipts passed in the Pay Abstract of a Government Establishment for sums exceeding Rupees 20 require a 1 anna Stamp.

2. As the case stood under the Act of 1860, I think it would have been doubtful whether any Stamp was necessary, as it might possibly have been contended that each receipt was a writing to which Government was a party, within the meaning of the general exemption in the Schedule to that Act. But in the new Act the general exemption is confined to writings "made or executed by or on behalf of Government." There may be some difficulty in determining the sense in which the Act uses the term "made" as distinguished from "executed." But I think that receipts for Government pay can only be treated as writings made or executed by the party signing them, or on whose behalf they are signed.

Extract from the Proceedings of the Right Hon'ble the Governor General of India in Council, in the Home Department (Separate Revenue), No. 3885A., under date the 31st July 1862.

Read also the Opinion of the Standing Counsel, dated 26th June 1862, which was obtained by the Officiating Accountant General, and which formed an enclosure of his communication, to the effect that "Government Salary Bills do not fall within the exemption of instruments made or executed by or on behalf of Government in the Schedule A to the Stamp Act, and that consequently receipts given for salary ought to be stamped as all other ordinary receipts;" as "also that the Bank of Bengal ought to require the affix of a Stamp in all these cases before making payment."

Read also the Resolution No. _____, passed this day by the Governor General in Council on the subject.

RESOLUTION.—In the Resolution No. _____, passed this day, the opinion of the Governor General in Council has been expressed in regard to the question of the requirement of the Law in respect of Stamps on receipts for salaries exceeding Rupees 20. The Governor in Council sees no reason for exempting from

The Opinion of the Standing Counsel, that "the Bank of Bengal ought to require the affix of a Stamp in all these cases before making payment," should be communicated through the Financial Department to the Bank of Bengal.

ORDERED, that a copy of this Resolution be forwarded to the Financial Department, in order that the necessary communication may be made to the Bank of Bengal, and for communication to the Officiating Accountant General, with reference to his letter No. 258, dated 28th ultimo, the original enclosures of which are returned.

From

H. SCOTT SMITH, ESQUIRE,

Registrar, Calcutta University

To

Calcutta, the August, 1862.

SIR,

THE Vice-Chancellor and Syndicate of the Calcutta University recently appointed a Sub-Committee "to collect evidence as to the expediency of altering any of the standards according to which the University Examinations are now conducted."

It has been suggested to the Sub-Committee

That, in connection with each Profession, there should be one, and only one, regular ordinary Degree to be awarded after examination and to be regarded as a public testimony, on the part of the University, that the holder is believed to be a man fully worthy of trust in respect to professional attainments.

That it should be clearly made known, that this Degree is that of Bachelor.

And that Licentiates should be uniformly treated as persons who have received merely inchoate or provisional certificates.

2. The University, it is alleged, will run some risk of misleading the public, and will do no credit to itself, if it allows, or seems to allow, Professional Licentiates to offer their certificates as vouchers, on the part of the University, that they are persons to whom the public may safely entrust the building of their houses, the defence of their reputations and property, or the care of their health. If, however, it be made clear that Licentiates in all the Faculties are publicly regarded and treated as imperfectly educated men, it will then rest with the public to employ them, or to forbear, at their own risk and with their eyes open.

3. It has been suggested, therefore, that the examination for a Licentiate's certificate should be declaredly a mere preliminary examination, at which candidates, who have passed the First Examination in Arts, are to be examined in the fundamental principles of those Sciences on which, by further study, experience, and practice, their professional skill is to be superinduced. Such an examination might generally be passed about the close of the 5th year of professional study.

4. The examination, for a Bachelorship, it has been suggested, should be open to all Bachelors of Arts, and should fully test the candidate's attainments in respect to knowledge and to practice, after a course of professional study, and of subordinate practice, extending over about 5 years.

5. In all Faculties, perhaps, those who pass the Bachelor's examination should have an opportunity of graduating with Honors.

6. Should these suggestions be acted on, there would probably be no necessity for any further professional examination for the Degree of Doctor, in any profession. That Degree might then be accorded only to those (and to them without further examination):

- a. Who are Masters of Arts.
- b. Who have graduated professionally with Honors.
- c. Who have since practiced with repute for five years.
- d. Of whom it is testified, by at least two Doctors (members of the University), that in habits and character they are fit and proper persons for the Degree of Doctor.

7. On these principles, there should, in each of the three professional Faculties, be three examinations (Licentiate, Bachelor, Honors). At present (excluding examinations for the Degree of Doctor of Law, or Medicine, or Master in Engineering) there are three examinations in Law; two (Licentiate and Honors) in Medicine; and one (Licentiate) in Engineering.

8. Without proposing material alterations, in connection with the Faculty of Law, (which comes nearer to the principles above stated than any of the others), it has been suggested (in addition to the discontinuance of special examinations for Doctors):

a. That, since the course prescribed for Licentiates cannot be adequately mastered in two years, (as now contemplated) it should be extended over three years.

b. That the course for Bachelors should, in like manner, be extended over two additional years.

c. That some certificate of professional practice, or apprenticeship should be required of candidates for the Bachelor's Degree.

d. That the subjects of examination for Honors in Law (Cal. p. 62) should be modified, thus:

a. Roman Civil Law.

b. International Law and Conflict of Laws.

c. Law of England, as administered in the High Court (excluding Mercantile Law).

d. Mercantile Law.

e. General Law (including Hindu and Mahomedan) as administered in Bengal in Courts not established by Royal Charter.

9. In Medicine it has been suggested that the First Examination for L. M. S. (as now existing) might be regarded as the Licentiate's examination; and that the second examination for L. M. S. might be adopted as the examination for M. B. The qualification in Arts for the former would be a certificate of having passed the First Examination in Arts; and that for the latter, the possession of the B. A. Degree.

10. In the Faculty of Engineering, it has been suggested that standards should be laid down for a Licentiate's examination after 3 years of professional study, and open to all who have passed the First Examination in Arts; and for a Bachelor's examination after 5 years of mixed study and subordinate practice, and open to all graduates in Arts. The latter standard might be (nearly) the existing Licentiate's standard; and the present Master's standard might be adopted for Honors. A standard for the Licentiate's examination would have to be fixed.

11. It has been suggested that the concluding letter of the title L. M. S. and the middle letter of the titles L. C. E. and M. C. E. might be dispensed with.

12. I am directed by the Sub-Committee to invite an expression of your opinion on these suggestions, or on any of them which may be especially interesting to you.

I have the honor to be,

Sir,

Your most obedient Servant,

Registrar.

TO:

I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 14th inst. in relation to the proposed alterations in the University Examinations, and to inform you that the same have been forwarded to the Sub-Committee for their consideration.
Calcutta, the 18th August, 1862.

Sir,

THE Vice-Chancellor and Syndicate of the Calcutta University recently appointed a Sub-Committee "to collect evidence as to the expediency of altering any of the standards according to which the University Examinations are now conducted."

2. The annexed paper indicates some alterations which have been suggested to the Sub-Committee, and some questions in regard to which they are anxious to obtain information.

3. I am directed to forward a copy of this paper, and to request that you will kindly communicate, for the consideration of the Sub-Committee, any recommendations or remarks which may occur to you, with reference either to the contents of the paper or to the general subjects on which the Sub-Committee is expected to report.

4. You will observe that there is no wish, or intention, on the part of the Vice-Chancellor and Syndicate, to lower in any way the standards of attainment in connection with University Degrees. On the contrary, it is believed that some limitation of the number of distinct branches of knowledge, to be used as tests of qualification, will encourage a sounder and deeper study of the important subjects which are retained.

5. At the same time, if alterations are to be made, it is obviously desirable that they should be so introduced as to cause no sudden or violent derangement of the existing system.

I have the honor to be,

Sir,

Your most obedient Servant,

H. Scott Smith
Registrar.

Your address upon what paper I have used is given at the bottom of the paper. I will distribute copies to all Professors or the persons from whom useful reports may be expected.

Instructions for the guidance of Covenanted Probationary Engineers on joining the Public Works Department under the Government of India.

1. In pursuance of His Excellency the Governor General in Council, the following instructions are issued for the guidance of the gentlemen sent out from England by the Secretary of State as Probationary Assistant Engineers in the Public Works Department.

2. After reporting himself at the Public Works Office, as directed by the Secretary of State, the Probationary Assistant Engineer will be sent to the Professor of Civil Engineering at the Presidency College—address—College Square—who after a short examination, either visà voce or by papers, as may be thought necessary, will report to the Secretary to Government of India in the Public Works Department, whether he considers the Probationer fit for immediate employment in the active duties of the Department, or whether it seems advisable that he should enter upon a short course of theoretical study, either at the Presidency or at the Thomason College, Roorkee. If declared fit for immediate employment, he will at once be gazetted as an Assistant Engineer, 3rd grade, and made available for duty in one of the Provinces under the Government of India, and ordered to report himself to the Chief Engineer.

3. In the event of it being considered advisable that he should go through a further course at one of the Colleges, he will report himself to the Principal at Calcutta or at Roorkee, as he may be directed, as soon as possible, and will there be instructed further as to what is expected of him.

4. On being reported qualified for the active duties of the Department (either at Calcutta or Roorkee), he will be gazetted as an Assistant Engineer, 3rd grade, and will be considered, as transferred to the Effective Establishment from the date on which he may be appointed. The Probationary Assistant Engineer, from the date of their covenant with the Secretary of the Department, the date of their being brought on the effective establishment, will draw pay at the rate of Rs. 70 a month while at College, will be entitled to free quarters. From the date of their being brought on the Effective Establishment, they will draw pay at the rate of Rs. 100 per mensem.

5. The Rules under which Departmental promotion is regulated are as follows:—

Extract from Public Works Code, Chapter II.

11.—In all ordinary cases an Assistant Engineer will be considered as on probation for the first year of his service, at the end of which he will be examined as to his fitness for a permanent appointment. *

Every Assistant Engineer, 3rd grade, before he can be promoted, must be 'favorably' reported on by his Official superiors. *

The examination which each will be required to undergo before he can be promoted, will be such as to show that he is capable of preparing designs and estimates for all descriptions of buildings and works usually required of Executive Engineers, that he is acquainted with the processes for preparing materials, and with the modes of construction in use in India, that he has a good knowledge of the resources of the Districts in which he has been employed as to materials and of the best mode of applying them, and that he understands the management of work-people; also that he has made himself acquainted with the rules, and understands the forms of account in use in the Department.

The examination will be conducted by a Committee composed of one Chief, or Superintending Engineer, as President, and two Officers of the Engineer Establishment or of the District Engineers, of not less than three years' standing, as Members. The record of the Committee's proceedings, with the Chief Engineer's observations and recommendation, will be submitted, through the Local Administration, to the Government of India, by whom the appointments will be made. These Committees may be convened by Chief Engineers, on application for examination by Candidates who have served the prescribed term and are possessed of the preliminary qualifications.

"43.—The Government may, in special cases, dispense with the examination or reduce the period of probation."

6. Having reached the grade of Assistant Engineer, 2nd grade, Public Works Officers will henceforth be eligible for promotion to the higher grades of the Department as vacancies arise, and as their attainments indicate their fitness for advancement. But no Assistant Engineer, 2nd grade, can be promoted to the 1st grade until he passes the first or lower standard of examination in Hindustani laid down in G. O. Military Department, dated 9th September 1861. And no Assistant Engineer is eligible for promotion to the grade of Executive Engineer until he shall have passed the examination for the 2nd or higher standard, laid down in the same G. O., or similar examination in the language of the District in which he is employed.

7. Promotion in the Public Works Department is to be understood as essentially dependent on merit and attainments, though length of service will, of course, be considered in making a selection among properly qualified Officers.

8. Travelling allowance at the usual Departmental rates will be allowed to all young Probationers arriving from England under covenant with the Secretary of State on proceeding either to College or to join their first appointments.

9. These rates are 3 annas per mile for the distance travelled by Rail, and 8 annas per mile for the rest of the journey. The Probationers shall proceed to their destination without undue delay.

10. The above allowance to be understood as intended to cover all expenses

11. Each Probationer shall have arrears of pay due to him on arrival in Calcutta, together with one month's pay in advance if required, regarding the mode of drawing which he will receive instructions at the Office of the Chief Engineer of General Writers' Buildings.

12. The Chief Engineer will also draw the above travelling allowance for them, and arrange for their journey up-country, the travelling bills being adjusted afterwards, if required, with the Principal of the Roorkee College.

in the Presidency College of London.

Yours faithfully
W. S. Atterbury

The lectures should commence at 4½ P. M., we enquire a speaker to show that this hour will best suit the public convenience, and the day can be selected by yourself with reference to your stated engagements in the Presidency College.

3 You will be so good as to prepare and submit to me at your early convenience a form of advertisement embodying these instructions and designating the day on which the lectures will be given.

4 It must be understood that the present arrangement is entirely provisional and experimental. Hereafter we will determine that systematic instruction in Science should be provided in connection with the professional Course in the Department of Civil Engineering, but the future status of the Civil Engineering Course and the scope of their studies are now under consideration it would at present be premature to prepare a scheme for making this provision.

Extract from the Proceedings of the Government of India, in the Financial Department, No. 1176G., dated the 14th February 1863.

Memorandum from the Under-Secretary to the Government of India, Public Works Department, to the Secretary to the Government of India, Financial Department.—(No. 339, dated the 24th January 1863.)

WITH reference to Extract, Financial Department, No. 1176G., dated 31st December 1862, sanctioning an increase of salary (from Rupees 380 to Rupees 700 per month) for the Professor of Mathematics in the Civil Engineering College, Calcutta, the undersigned has the honor to enquire whether it is not intended that the increase should be given from 1st May 1862 (as was recommended), instead of 1st May 1863, as printed in the Resolution.

FINANCIAL DEPARTMENT, FORT WILLIAM, THE 14TH FEBRUARY 1863.

RESOLUTION.—The Hon'ble the President in Council observes that the increase to the salary of the Professor of Mathematics in the Civil Engineering College can commence only from the date upon which it was sanctioned by the Supreme Government; that, besides the general objection to retrospective payments, it is specially necessary jealously to guard the observance of the rule that no increase of Establishment or addition to salary is to be inserted in the annual Estimates without a previous specific sanction given upon a consideration of the merits of the individual case; and that the Government of Bengal ought not to have departed from this indispensable rule in the present case.

ORDERED, that a copy of the above be sent to the Public Works Department for information, with reference to the foregoing Memorandum.
